

20 December 2016

Dear Friend,

I came to know Keri, aka Nectaria Burnor upon attending a class in International Law back in 2010 or thereabouts.

Upon consulting with her I found her knowledge base vast, and so throughout the years have not only consulted with her on such matters, but we became close friends.

Nectaria consulted and assisted many in the area of lawful remedies until she found that the IRS was involved in covert sting operations against constitutionalists. At that point she proceeded to consult with former IRS Criminal Investigator, Michael Vilardi, who is now an enrolled agent, in order to get many of her clients to safety, which she succeeded in doing.

After 7-8 years of advocating for others, she found that even though there are laws on the books for remedies, anybody holding to the Constitution is treated as an enemy combatant within their own country, and whatever remedy should be available to them was rendered ineffective. Nectaria then sought other more conventional means to obtain for her clients, if not full success, at least some reprieve from the advance of 'the system.' Some of Nectaria's efforts to assist those who love America have been infiltrated by former NSA and CIA agents who have sought to target her clients using the legal process. One such NSA agent who threatened Nectaria and her associates was found to have invested in energy and nano technologies. (Evidence has been acquired verifying this connection.) She has done everything she knows to do to resolve this onslaught including hiring both attorneys and private security, only to find that even her private security's life and family were threatened by DHS and CIA agents. (Again evidence confirming this has been collected.) The attorneys were threatened or assaulted for assisting Keri (Nectaria) and either withdrew their assistance as a result or had to be terminated for their own well-being.

Throughout these years of active involvement with clients, Nectaria was targeted for termination through the use of highly toxic weaponized nanotechnology meant to make her death appear conventional. Eight such attacks are fully documented and verified by reliable sources. What was her 'crime?' For many years she didn't know. What has become abundantly clear to her over time is that she was targeted for death because of: 1) her love for and unfailing devotion to Jesus Christ, and 2) her exposure of the sexual abuse endemic to the Roman Catholic Church. Recently, Nectaria spent the last of her open credit to train for a life of serving others in the field of color therapy and as a GDV trained technician for which she acquired class participation certificates. She did this to demonstrate that she'd forgiven those who've repeatedly come against her, and she removed the revealing information from her website to show she was no longer in the fight. Unfortunately, her overture was not well received; her efforts to proceed peacefully are being repeatedly ignored and repudiated.

She has had compounded issues relating to accessing her credit and an incidence of identity theft. She corrected the latter after 4 months of effort, and after waiting two months for approval of business credit from Chase Bank, a process that required she provide a utility bill in her name (which meant revealing her physical location), she was denied because 'the water bill received electronically is not sufficient' even though this document is deemed sufficient according to normal banking standards. Approximately 10 days after Chase Business Relationship Manager Jim Athens, Jr., (Retired U.S. Air Force) received the bill showing Nectaria's physical address, she suffered yet another biological weapon attack, this time at her revealed location, in the form of a perfumed nano-dispersal aerosol. For the previous 10 months she had been free of such attacks in her living space.

After watching this video:

of ex-CIA agent Kevin Shipp describing the means that the CIA and other shadow government agencies destroy one financially, Nectaria's story appears to fit this description of sabotage.

Then, on November 20, 2016, Nectaria received a new threat on her life by email, one which appeared to have been sent from her to herself. The source was traced by a private investigator to the Department of Defense Information Center in Miami, Florida and communicated that she had '7 days to die.' This effectively put an end to her aspirations of serving people with color therapy as she could not risk exposing her clients to potentially unsafe conditions by association.

Throughout my association with Nectaria I have known her to be honorable and to do all she can to help people using only the highest standards. As I learned of her story and watched her over the past 5-6 years, I found her incredibly courageous in response to situations that most men would shrink from. She does all she can to be strong, self-reliant, and to impose no burdens on anyone in light of the seriousness of what she faces. I have seen her health decline after every attack; I have witnessed all the methods wherein her sources of funding were attacked, and despite all of this she keeps fighting and trying to do what is good and right.

She accepts responsibility for what she is experiencing, and yet I find this is not a burden she can carry alone any longer. She needs a respite; time to fully heal her body from the most recent attacks (August 21, 2016 and December 15, 2016); time to restore her spirit, and to obtain a final resolution against these ongoing threats to her well-being.

It is the hope of many, myself included, that the national (if not, in fact, global) reset that occurred on November 8, 2016, will result in the dismantling of the shadow government that has plagued humanity for decades now, and which is responsible for making Nectaria a fugitive in her own country. But that which took 150+ years to assemble is not going to go away quietly or quickly. In the meantime, with all the solid evidence that she has meticulously accumulated against the perpetrators as well as the successful (albeit time-consuming and costly) remedies for mitigating the effects of weaponized nanotechnology attacks, Nectaria's story offers hope to thousands who are so affected. With the disclosure of DOD's Nano Domestic Quell program describing the insertion of non-military grade nano-contamination in foods, beverages, water supplies, vaccines, etc., which affects all of us, it is Nectaria's hope that many will wake-up to these dangerous and toxic materials. There are indeed remedies and ways to neutralize the intended harm, which is why Nectaria's story needs to be heralded far and wide for the benefit all. But this is a large task, and she cannot continue to pursue this alone.

Please contact me if you would like to schedule an interview with Nectaria (Keri) Burnor.

For those who wish to assist us, we are asking for prayers, for your help in spreading this story, and for those who would wish to help us with gifts – financial or otherwise – we URGENTLY need your help: Donations received will be used for the following:

1. Continued health recovery for the Ministry Director, Sister Keri,
2. her security,
3. outstanding medical and legal bills, and
4. to help the many who are in situations like Sister Keri's by communicating widely this unparalleled story; your donations help Sister Keri remain a "watch lady on the wall."

Financial gifts (NOT tax-deductible) may be made to the ministry, Christ the Wall Hermitages
